Thirsk – the Heart of North Yorkshire

A great place to live, learn and work

As a market town serving the heart of North Yorkshire, Thirsk has all the facilities you might expect from a larger town, but with an intimacy and sense of community. The town itself has a traditional marketplace, banks, shops, supermarkets, pubs and restaurants, medical facilities, primary schools, and childcare providers.

Culture

There is a unique community-run cinema in Thirsk which is small and characterful but has all the latest releases along with more unusual productions. The arts scene is complemented by several galleries and Thirsk is the home to North Yorkshire's Rural Arts Centre which promotes exhibitions, workshops and classes in a variety of the arts. Thirsk is also the home of the nationally recognised Herriot Museum and this reflects its traditional roots as the centre of the agricultural community. Local history is well promoted with information boards linking walks around the town. Additionally, Thirsk remains the centre of the hand-made furniture industry with several nationally renowned brands, each with distinctive carved trademarks. Some showrooms have workshop tours and cafes.

Sport

Sporting interests are facilitated by a local leisure centre with swimming pool, newly expanded and upgraded gym and other facilities. Local clubs including Thirsk and Sowerby Harriers and Thirsk Netball use the school's facilities for their training sessions and matches. Thirsk Hockey Club, and Thirsk Falcons Football Club run a full spectrum of junior and senior teams for both genders. Thirsk Netball club runs training for junios from age seven, right through to walking netball. There is a rich tradition in rugby and cricket with clubs based in the town and many local football and cricket teams in the local villages. A squash club and a golf club lie on the town's fringes and of course, Thirsk has its own well-regarded racecourse. A fantastic development has been the establishment of the Sowerby Sports Village on the school's doorstep. This developing facility provides for a variety of clubs and individuals, offering a measured one-kilometre track that attracts runners, cyclists, and walkers.

Leisure

Thirsk lies between two National Parks, The Yorkshire Dales, and the North Yorkshire Moors, which are easily accessible and provide wonderful walking, mountain biking, fell running and bird-watching opportunities. The hosting of the Tour de France in 2014 elevated the cycling tradition in the area and the school has previously hosted the London to Edinburgh cycle venture. North Yorkshire's stunning coast is within easy reach, offering wild and dramatic cliffs, beautiful fishing villages and traditional seaside resorts along the bracing North Sea coast.

Housing and Transport

There is a variety of housing available in the area, including more traditional market town houses and local village cottages, family houses, apartments, and terraced properties. The Sowerby Gateway development on the southern fringe of the town offers a wide range of housing on a modern estate. Fantastic transport links via the A1 (M), A19, A61 and the mainline railway running from London to Edinburgh enhance Thirsk as a great place to locate. Many staff members live within the school's catchment and send their children to our neighbouring primary schools or to our school, whilst others choose to live in York, Harrogate, Ripon, Northallerton and Teesside.

SEND Department Information

Our SEND department is hard working and committed; it embodies the whole-school values offering a genuinely inclusive and ambitious service led by the belief that with the right support everyone can meet their potential. We have specialist and dedicated provision, taking up the upper floor of our F block, known as 'The Nest'. Here we have dedicated classrooms alongside smaller spaces to support small group work and one-to-one support. In another building we operate 'The Perch' where students access a range of services to support shorter-term needs. A third aspect of our specialist provision is our Targeted Mainstream Provision (TMP), our specialist resource for students whose needs are greater than can typically be met through ordinary SEND support. In all this provision staff operate as a close-knit team as well as working effectively with a wide range of external partners who also support our students.

Our SEND team is led by a SENDCO who as Assistant Headteacher is a member of the Senior Leadership Team. He is supported by a Deputy SENDCO with strong expertise in high-needs students, having previously been the lead member of staff in our Targeted Mainstream Provision.

At Thirsk School & Sixth Form College, we are committed to providing high-quality education for all students, ensuring that every child's individual needs are met. Our approach to supporting children and young people with Special Educational Needs and Disabilities (SEND) is grounded in a philosophy of inclusivity and a graduated response that allows for tailored intervention and support at every stage of their educational journey.

Identification and Early Intervention

We recognise that early identification and intervention are key to supporting the needs of our students with SEND. A child or young person may be placed on our SEND Register through a combination of factors, including communication with previous settings, performance below age-related expectations, concerns raised by parents/carers or teachers, and collaboration with external agencies. We also use standardised assessments to help us identify specific needs and ensure that no student's potential is overlooked.

Quality First Teaching (Wave 1)

We believe that all students should receive the highest standard of education through Quality First Teaching (QFT). Teachers are expected to deliver lessons that build on students' prior knowledge and adapt to their individual learning needs. If students are not making adequate progress, they will be monitored, and adjustments will be made to their learning experiences as part of a proactive, inclusive approach. Continued monitoring and support are provided, particularly for those who may have previously been on the SEND register.

01845 522024 thirskschool@thirskschool.org Topcliffe Road, Sowerby, Thirsk, N. Yorks YO7 1RZ Headteacher: Emma Lambden

SEND Support (Wave 2)

For students who require more specific intervention, our SEND team will step in to provide additional and targeted support. This may include small-group interventions, tailored learning plans, and close collaboration with subject teachers to implement appropriate strategies. Individual Education Plans (IEPs) are developed for each student at this stage, setting out clear targets and provisions. We work closely with parents/carers to ensure that they are fully informed and involved in the process. Students may also benefit from support in our specialised settings, such as The Perch and The Nest, which focus on emotional literacy, social and emotional development, and targeted academic interventions.

Intensive Support and EHCP (Wave 3)

In cases where students do not make the expected progress despite Wave 2 interventions, we consider further support under Wave 3. This may involve a more intensive intervention program, such as time spent in our Enhanced Internal Provision (EIP), where students receive more focused support in core subjects, alongside therapeutic and social interventions. We also work closely with external professionals to assess and address specific needs, and, where necessary, we may begin the process of applying for an Education, Health and Care Plan (EHCP) to ensure that the student receives the appropriate level of support.

Collaborative Working and Review

At all stages, we emphasise the importance of regular review and collaboration. Our SEND team works closely with teachers, parents, external agencies, and support services to ensure that all students with SEND receive the best possible provision. We monitor the progress of interventions regularly, adjusting our approach as necessary to ensure the needs of each student are fully met.

At Thirsk School & Sixth Form College, we are dedicated to fostering an inclusive environment where all students can thrive, and we are committed to providing the support and opportunities necessary for each child to reach their full potential.

Our SEND Department is dedicated to providing tailored support for students with additional learning needs, ensuring they can thrive in a supportive and inclusive environment. Our team of teaching assistants works closely with teachers to assist students in the classroom and deliver targeted small-group interventions designed to address individual needs. Many of our staff have been with us for several years, bringing a wealth of experience and a deep understanding of the students we support, while new members of the team bring fresh perspectives and energy. Above all, our department is defined by a shared commitment to kindness, care, and a student-centred approach, fostering an environment where every student is encouraged to reach their full potential.
